McGregor's Has Exclusive On Phormiums Now Available

Carlsbad, CA --June 7, 2005—McGregor Plant Sales has 25 varieties of Phormiums (New Zealand Flax) immediately available to help professional growers meet the increasing demand for this popular product line.

Growers from Canada to Florida are finding Phormiums a profitable, great-selling variety. In their ongoing commitment to help growers increase sales, reduce risk and increase profitability, McGregor's is offering a fabulous selection of the distinctively-colored Phormiums (New Zealand Flax).

Growers who wish to stimulate sales with the Phormiums best-suited to their customer's' growing conditions can save time by calling McGregor's sales reps. "Finding and ordering plants that fit seasonal programming requirements is simple with McGregor's exclusive sourcing and fresh supply of Phormiums," said Cathy McClintock, McGregor's General Manager.

Phormiums are excellent for use in both landscape and containers due to their architectural shape. McGregor's offers Phormiums in a broad range of the most exciting color pallet including pink to red-bronze to purple-brown such as the Bronze Baby variety to the Chocolate Fingers variety—a light chocolate color. Other Phormium color choices offered by McGregor's range from bright greens, to dark greens and varieties with creamy-white variegation near the edges.

-MORE-

Phormiums are drought tolerant and look stunning in a wide variety of combination planters, straight pots and landscapes. They are cold hearty to approximately 19 degrees F—making them a great choice for professional growers to offer their customers in many parts of the world.

Growers that choose McGregor's benefit from working with a proven high-quality supplier that provides clean production with no bacterial issues, comprehensive cultural support, helpful plant growing information and much more.

Growers can find detailed shipping, cultural information any time of day or night, by contacting their representative listed on www.mcgregorplantsales.com
